

History Spotlight: School's Out, circa 1950

Larry Michaels and Krista Michaels, Columnists Published 11:58 a.m. ET Feb. 15, 2018

(Photo: Submitted)

CONNECT TWEET LINKEDIN COMMENT EMAIL MORE

FREMONT - Buses are lined up as high school lets out in this circa 1950 photo looking south on Park Avenue from Croghan Street. Built in 1909 with later additions, the building became the Junior High (later the Middle School) when the new Ross High School opened in 1958. Notice the old house that is now gone next to First Presbyterian Church beyond the buses.