FREMONT - The 2018 Youth Leadership Sandusky County Class held its first session on Monday at the Fremont Recreation Center.

The 16 Eighth Graders in the YLSC Class and their school districts are: Skylar Ward and Easton Hicks, Bellevue; Antonio Baez and Laura Schnell, Bishop Hoffman; Emily Kennedy and Dillon Liskai, Clyde; Tanna Bower and Nicholas Pearson, Fremont; Aidan Farmer and Shelby Hanthorn, Gibsonburg; Brynn Miller and Beau Shaffer, Margaretta; Parker DuBois and Jada Howard, Old Fort; and Sophia O'Neill and Sidney Wank, Woodmore.

The first session theme was "Community/Service." YLSC Team member Jessica Sumser and YLSC Coordinator Sharon Kinnear welcomed the group.

The students enjoyed an interactive presentation on "Community" by Deb Nofzinger of the Sandusky County Park District.

The Fremont Recreation Center staff directed the students in team-building activities and led a tour of the center.

Gary and Bette Kaltenbach spoke to the group about the importance of volunteerism and ways the youth could complete their required 12 hours of service.

Lunch was provided by Frickers and Providence Care Center.

The next YLSC session will be Dec. 4 at Vanguard Sentinel Center.
