Ukulele, bluegrass, swing and more at summer Verandah Concerts

FREMONT – Bring your lawn chair and enjoy free outdoor concerts featuring musicians performing ukulele, bluegrass, swing and other genres of music twice a month this summer on the verandah of the historic Hayes Home.

The Hayes Presidential Library & Museum's popular Verandah Concert series includes a variety of musicians playing diverse genres.

Each event begins with an ice cream social at 6:30 p.m. Donations are accepted for ice cream. Music starts at 7 p.m.

On Verandah Concert Wednesdays, the Hayes Presidential Library & Museums will have extended hours and offer a schedule of special events, such as hands-on artifact activities, gallery talks and themed tours of the Hayes Home. The museum will be open from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. on concert days. For a schedule of special events on Verandah Concert Wednesdays, visit <https://www.rbhayes.org/visit-us/scheduled-museum-activities-and-themed-hayes-home-tours/>

Verandah Concerts are sponsored by Fremont Federal Credit Union.

Lions Club presents two scholarships

FREMONT - The Fremont Lions Club showed its support of community youth by presenting Ross High School senior Keaton Jordan a scholarship of $500 for continued education on May 16 at the Ross High School.

On May 24, St. Joseph Central Catholic senior Mackenzie Pena also was presented a scholarship of $500 for continuing education.

According to Lion president Terry Thatcher both Jordan and Pena have set an excellent example for fellow students to follow, and they deserve to be recipients of these scholarships.

For more information about Lions Clubs International, visit its website, lionsclubs.org.

The Fremont Lions Club meets at the Eagles Aerie on State Street at noon the first and third Tuesdays of each month. For more information or to get in involved with the Fremont Lions Club, contact Secretary Jim Moyer at frelionjim@gmail.com.

Vanguard-Sentinel honored by OSU-Marion's Alber Center

MARION - Vanguard-Sentinel Career & Technology Centers, Fremont, was honored with the Collaboration in Developing the Future Workforce award.

Several organizations and two individuals were honored during a luncheon and awards ceremony on May 22 for their outstanding achievement and excellence by the Alber Enterprise Center at The Ohio State University-Marion.

Vanguard was honored because of its deep commitment to moving forward on the cutting edge of workforce development in the elder care industry. Their trust in Ohio State's new Elder Care Certificate program, including Train-the-Trainer, shows an understanding that educators must develop effective young leaders to provide quality care for the aging Ohio population. In fact, Vanguard has submitted this program for an industry credential with the Ohio Department of Education.

Farmers Market, car show set for June 15

FREMONT - Downtown Fremont will be have its first Croghan Colonial Bank Farmers Market and Fremont Federal Credit Union Car Show of the 2019 season on Front Street from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. June 15.
