

January 13, 2009

Reading for ice cream

---

During the past month the students at Fremont Middle School have been reading at home, at school and on the bus in order to win an ice cream social for their team. Currently Team 7A is leading the competition and has high hopes to win. "This is a great opportunity for our students to explore their world, expand their imagination, improve their overall academic performance and become life long readers," said Anthony Walker, FMS building principal.