Student artists honored

Calendar contest designs featured recycling, litter

Submitted by the OSS Solid Waste District

Ottawa, Sandusky and Seneca county art students in seventh grade through 12th grade had the opportunity to participate in the OSS Solid Waste District's Calendar Contest.

Students were encouraged to create a design with a recycling or litter prevention theme to be included in a 2009 calendar created by the district.

Entries received were then judged by the Bowling Green State University Art Department.

Twelve designs were selected to be displayed in the calendar. The calendars were then distributed to all of the schools and county offices in each of the three counties.

Winning designs at the High School level were submitted by Mr. Vassar, art teacher at Fremont Ross High School, and include the following students:

- Brandy LeVario, first place; and Rini Gnepper, second.

Additional winning designs at the junior high level were submitted by Ms. Day, art teacher at St. Joseph's Elementary School and include the following students:

- Sarah Gray, first; Lindsay Darr, second

All of the winners received a book bag made from recycled plastic and filled with a variety of art supplies. In addition, the district framed the winner's original artwork in a recycled content frame.

The district would like to congratulate all of the winners and thank all students who participated in the contest. If you are interested in obtaining a 2009 calendar contact the district toll free at 888-850-7224, while supplies last.
