

STUDENTS OF THE MONTH

Submitted story • February 25, 2010

Learning and Liberty Foundation of Fremont City Schools and Old Fort Bank have selected January and February students of the month.

JANUARY WINNERS

Atkinson

MaKennah Fitzgerald, daughter of Robert and Ronda Fitzgerald, is a third-grader. MaKennah enjoys swimming with the Sky Sharks through the YMCA, where she has won many awards and medals. She also attends Grace Community Church and has participated in Kids' Camp.

MaKennah is also involved in the gifted program at Atkinson Elementary School. MaKennah is a good citizen, according to her nomination form. She takes school seriously and achieves high honors.

MaKennah finishes her work and always offers help to others. MaKennah said, "I always try to do my best in everything I do. If something is difficult for me I never give up. I just keep practicing until I get it right."

Croghan

David Boda, son of Monica and David Boda, is a third-grader. David enjoys reading and spending time with his family. He also has a lot of fun playing with his little sister, Mia. According to his nomination form, David is an excellent student. He is a hard-working and conscientious young man. David is polite and respectful of his peers as well as adults. David said, "I feel really happy when I'm at school, and I feel like I am learning a lot."

Hayes

Deshea Pettiford, son of Rodney and Tina Pettiford, is a third-grader. He enjoys sports such as wrestling, football and baseball. Deshea also is good at math.

Desha cares about his behavior and academic progress. He is a role model to his classmates. According to his nomination form, Deshea can be counted on to complete his work to the best of his ability, and he makes great behavior choices.

Lutz

Taivon Agnew, son of Latoya Jump, is a third-grader. Taivon enjoys drawing, wrestling and playing with his Transformers. Taivon is a great student, according to his nomination form. He is a quiet leader who everyone likes to be around. Taivon is the ideal student who sets high standards for his classroom.

Otis

Emily Morris, daughter of Jennifer Morris and Dave Morris, is a third-grader. Emily likes to read and do math. She also enjoys playing Monopoly and making up her own games.

Emily is a very kind person, according to her nomination form. She is always willing to help others and works extremely hard in the classroom. Her teacher said Emily strives to do her best each day, setting a positive example for peers.

Stamm

Chloe Roosen, daughter of Kari and Aaron Roosen, is a third-grader. Chloe enjoys listening to music, playing Mario Cart and ice skating.

Her favorite subjects are science and grammar. Chloe's favorite things about Stamm are the teachers and the special classes such as art, music and physical education. According to her nomination form, Chloe is a wonderful student.

She is responsible, creative and a hard worker. Chloe also is a fantastic writer.

Washington

Dennis Pence Jr., son of Kathy and Dennis Pence, is a third-grader. He enjoys soccer, baseball, collecting Pokemon cards, playing catch with his Dad, playing Mario Brothers, coloring and playing SpongeBob Monopoly with his family.

This is his first year at Washington, and he has adjusted well. He has a heart of gold and is always willing to help his classmates and his teacher. Dennis follows directions the first time given and always tries his best.

"I like math and language arts because language arts is fun and math is kind of hard, but I can do it," Dennis said.

FEBRUARY WINNERS

Atkinson

Charlotte Whitney, daughter of Renee and Joe Brandon and Jason and Adrian Whitney. Charlotte is a fourth- grader. Charlotte is involved in activities at Grace Community Church, including upward cheerleading. She loves to sing, design fashions and help with her baby brother, Gabe.

Charlotte is a member of Student Council, a peer mediator, a cafeteria helper and a Good News Club member. In the summer, Charlotte is busy with library programs. Charlotte is an outstanding young lady and an easy friend to all. She is a happy girl and a willing helper. Charlotte is a model student.

Croghan

Janna Sutton, daughter of Julie Sutton and Curtis Lindsay, is a fourth-grader. She is active in her church's Good News Club. Janna is very athletic and enjoys running and playing soccer. She hopes to be a future track star.

Janna loves to read and draw in her spare time.

Janna has been a wonderful addition to Croghan Elementary, according to her nomination form. Janna is honest, reliable, friendly, responsible and is a great role model for other students. Janna said, "I love Croghan because I have met a lot of kids who are very nice, and I enjoy coming to school each day."

Hayes

Noah Massie, son of Jamie Schneider and Richard Massie, is a fourth-grader. Noah is involved in the gifted student program. He enjoys drawing and writing in his spare time.

Noah is an exceptional student and a quiet young man with a calm, mature personality. "I love math and science," he said.

Lutz

Hannah Kelly, daughter of Allison and Jim Kelly, is a fourth-grader. Hannah is involved in gymnastics, swimming and softball. She loves to eat mozzarella breadsticks and aspires to be a teacher.

Hannah said her favorite subject is science, but she works hard at every challenge that arises. According to her nomination form, Hannah is a wonderful, caring friend to her classmates.

Otis

Nathan Willis, son of Nicole and Mike Willis, is a fourth-grader. Nathan participates in baseball, basketball, flag football, and soccer. He is a member of Webelo Scouts.

Nathan likes to play video games and play with his dog, Mia. Nathan is an excellent student who follows school rules. He makes good choices and is a helpful, responsible young man. His teacher wrote, "Nathan is a remarkable student and role model. He also has a great sense of humor."

Stamm

Ashley Dodson, daughter of Kim Popoca, is a fourth-grader. Ashley enjoys softball, basketball and volleyball. In her spare time, she enjoys writing, reading and scrapbooking.

Ashley was nominated because she works her hardest every day. She never gives up and her positive attitude is a wonderful example for her peers. Ashley said, " I like to come to school to see my friends and learn to write."

Washington

Alyssa Fuller, daughter of Cindy and Joey Fuller, is a fourth-grader. She is a member of student council and a peer mediator.

Alyssa attends church and enjoys soccer, cheerleading and doing arts and crafts. Alyssa's favorite subject is language arts because she likes to write and tell stories. She also loves physical education classes.

Alyssa works hard and displays leadership qualities. Alyssa said, "You can't have a friend unless you be a friend."

Pictured are the January students of the month. (Submitted photo)

Pictured are the February students of the month. (Submitted photo)