

February 1, 2010

Students celebrate 100th day by collecting donations

Submitted story

FREMONT -- Area students are getting excited because the 100th day of school is almost here.

In honor of celebrating that first- and second-graders at Croghan Elementary are 100 days smarter, Mrs. Nossaman's student teacher Ms. Buford and Mrs. Price's student teacher, Ms. Bellowe decided to put on a friendly competition between the two classes and help out the Fremont community.

Each class's goal is to collect 100 non-perishable food items to donate to the Sandusky County Food Pantry in Fremont, which helps hundreds of local families who need emergency food assistance.

The program will run from now until Feb. 9. The class which is able to donate the most items will receive a grand prize on the 100th day of school.

First- and second-grade students at Croghan Elementary are trying to gather 100 non-perishable food items to commemorate the 100th day of school. The food drive runs through Feb. 9. (Submitted photos)

First and second grade student teachers at Croghan Elementary gather non-perishable food items to commemorate the 100th day of school.