

Bright spot: Kid's Club

OCTOBER 1, 2011

Kyle Waggoner, Isaac Smith and Tom Neill are cutting out trees, rocks and grass for a mural about working together. About 50 kids, in kindergarten through fourth grade, walk from Washington School, in Lindsey, across the street to Trinity United Methodist Church, to participate in Kid's Club every Wednesday. The kids have a healthy snack, hear Bible stories, participate in games and crafts and get help with homework. / Kathy Williams/News-Messenger correspondent
