Another September here and gone in the blink of an eye! Classrooms are a buzz with children busy at work soaking up new knowledge! Students are doing a fabulous job carrying out the expected behaviors of PBIS. You can read more about this throughout this newsletter and you can just feel the positive vibes throughout the building.

Watch DOGs

Earlier this week we launched a kick-off event for the Watch DOGs program. This program encourages father-type figures to spend the entire day at school complete with lunch and recess! We had over 90 dad, step-dads, grandpas, uncles and big brothers attend and 50 Watch DOGs sign up. If you were unable to attend, but would like to know more about this program, please contact Jane Fleming our Title I teacher at flemingj@fremontschools.net.

Exotic Animal Assembly

Barn Hill Animal Preserve will be at Stamm on October 16th for an Exotic Animal assembly. This was rescheduled from September 25th. A signed permission slip is required for students to attend the assembly. There is also an option to purchase pictures.

Chili-Supper

This year at our Chili Supper will take a new twist. We are going to have a Chili-Cook-Off. Stay tuned to hear who will participate in the friendly competition. The Chili Cook-Off will take place before the final Ross football game on October 27th from 4:30-7:00 in the Stamm Cafeteria.

Evacuation Drill

Each year, we conduct a practice evacuation drill to the YMCA. On Thursday, October 12th at 10:00 the entire building will evacuate and walk to the YMCA. If it rains, we will reschedule.

Yours in Education,

Mrs. Bridget L. Smith

Responsibility is the word of the month for October

Each individual is responsible for his/her choices. It is important to teach kids to be responsible at a young age so they become accountable for their actions. No one is perfect, but developing habits of responsibility will create self-sufficient adults and community citizens.

We will be celebrating Red Ribbon Week this month. Students will have the opportunity to do make a responsible choice and pledge to a healthy, drug free life. Please talk about to your child about the importance of making responsible choices to keep our minds and bodies healthy.

Teach Responsibility at Home:

Give age appropriate chores i.e. setting the table, helping with dinner, making his/her bed, taking out the trash. Make your child responsible for packing and unpacking their backpack each night. You can supervise. Make your child responsible for completing his/her homework. You can help if needed, but without doing it for him/her. Set the expectation that your child cleans up him/herself. Set behavior expectations and hold your child accountable for his/her actions. Consequences or rewards should be followed through. It might not seem like it, but they want and need to be held accountable.

October

One major way to help your child to be successful is to support positive reading habits. At a small age, reading helps develop vocabulary, so talk and look at books with your child from the time he or she is an infant. Point out words on signs to preschoolers. For elementary children, spend 20 minutes a day reading or having your child read to you. Older students should read on their own daily, but often still enjoy listening to adults read. For variety, visit a public library for books and magazines or buy a newspaper or comic book. Career Chat questions: What is a degree? Do all careers require 4 year of college?

Sincerely,

CEP Requirements

We encourage all elementary students to participate in the Community Eligibility Program (CEP). This program allows students to have breakfast and lunch free of charge. Students must meet the nutritional requirements of the program set forth by the USDA. At breakfast, students must take ½ cup fruit or vegetable and at least two other items. At lunch, students must take at least 3 items with one of those items being a fruit or vegetable. If students chose not to eat a component of their meal, they may place that item on the share table so long as the item is sealed. Items that do not meet program requirements will be charged individually. For example, if a student chooses to only take milk without two other components at lunch, he/she will be charged $.35.

Ala Carte

Ala Carte snack items are now available to purchase for $1.00 at lunch time. They will be whole grain items and will be different every week. They need to be paid for/ordered at breakfast time. The student will then receive them with their lunch.

PHONE NUMBERS!!!

Please be sure to update the office when parents get a new phone number. It is important that we are able to contact you in the event of an emergency.
